Such articles include, for example, such items as hollow cylindrical bodies, tubular film, planar articles and panels. While the invention is discussed here in the context of forming articles from polyethylene and polyethylene/polyamide terpolymers (ethylene/nylons), it will be recognized by one having ordinary skill in the art that the teachings of the invention are applicable to forming articles from other thermoplastic materials as well as thermosetting polymers, such as, polyester and acrylic resin. Molding machines and processes are also known in which the article to be molded is movably mounted relative f678ea9f9e
